Purchasers Will Fill Orders and Mail Them to Retail Stores at Jeffersonville.

Allen Swope, postmaster, has received a list of clothing, tools, safes, carpenter supplies etc., to be sold by the United States government on mail orders. The goods offered for sale are all new and were bought by the government for use in the World war and were never used.

The list contains a large number of useful articles that can be bought for much less than the prices asked at the retail stores. No shoes are contained in the list but a large number of other useful items are listed including rubber boots, woolen army blankets, articles and numerous articles. The government has established stores at Jeffersonville, Indianapolis, Louisville and Lexington, Ky. No orders by mail will be filled except at the Jeffersonville store. Not more than one hundred and twenty-five pounds can be shipped by parcel post. All mail orders of more than $2 will be insured by the government.

Several weeks ago the government conducted a sale of foodstuffs and a large number of orders were placed through the local postoffice. However, none of the purchases has arrived as yet but it was stated at the postoffice this morning that they would arrive in a short time. The government store at Chicago was out of some of the foodstuffs ordered by local people and will be unable to furnish them. In such cases the purchasers will be refunded their money.

The articles contained in the list just received at the postoffice are now subject to order it is understood. According to the plan, all purchases will be made direct from the retail store at Jeffersonville and not through the local postoffice. However, it will be necessary for those desiring to place orders to apply at the local postoffice for an order blank.

STATE ROTARY GOVERNOR TO VISIT LOCAL CLUB

Charles E. Watkins Will Speak Before Rotarians Next Tuesday.

Charles E. Watkins, who is the state governor of Rotary Clubs will speak to the Seymour Rotary Club next Tuesday. This announcement was made by President Griffith at the meeting today.

Some minor items of business were given attention. Among them was the indefinite postponement of Clam-bake which was to be held in Brown county next week. The response from the Rotary clubs at Franklin, Bedford and Bloomington was so meager that the affair would practically have been a local outing and it was thought advisable to postpone it.

SEVERAL LOCAL FANS GET WORLD SERIES TICKETS

A Number of Seymour Baseball Followers to Witness Opening Game at Cincinnati.

Several local baseball fans have been notified that they were among the successful ones to get seats as a result of the lottery conducted in order that no partiality be shown in selling the tickets for which there is a great demand. Among those who received tickets were Maurice E. Jennings and William Osterman. Applications for tickets were made by a number of local fans who had planned to witness the games to be played at Cincinnati a large number of whom will be disappointed. Several of the Seymour fans are planning to go to Cincinnati and take a chance on getting in the ball park to see some of the games.

DUDLEYTOWN ROAD WORK IS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Commissioners Find Work is Being Done According to Plans and Specifications.

The improvement of the Seymour-Dudleytown road with concrete is more than half completed and splendid progress is being made by the contractors. The county commissioners recently inspected the road and found it was built in accordance with the plans and specifications. An inspector appointed by the state highway commission is on the ground to see that the concrete is mixed properly. The company which is building this road also has the contract for the Seymour-Jonesville road to be constructed by the state highway commission and expects to begin work on that contract this fall.

The progress with the construction of the High street road has not been so satisfactory. Trouble has been experienced with machinery and several delays were occasioned by material failing to arrive when expected. Less than 4,000 feet of the concrete roadway has been completed.

The officials spent some time in this city. They were accompanied over the Indiana division by several local officials.

WORK TO BE PUSHED RAPIDLY

Committee Takes Steps to Have Poles and Other Obstructions Removed From Sidewalks.

The formal contract between the city and the W. C. Bevins for the installation of an electric post light system on seven blocks in the business district, was signed today by Mayor Burkart and Harry Findley, clerk, representing the city, and W. L. Clark of the contracting firm. The agreement was drawn up by John M. Lewis, city attorney, and the plans and specifications which were accepted by the council were made a part of the contract.

Confirmation of the dispatch received here yesterday that the state tax board had approved the $10,000 bond issue to meet the cost of the improvement was given to Mayor Burkart over the telephone by a member of the state board today. It was stated that the written order will be issued without delay, but the city entered into the contract as soon as possible so there would be no further delay in ordering the materials and equipment shipped.

Mr. Clark stated today that work of installing the system would be started probably tomorrow. All of the materials were ordered some

PRESIDENT'S HEALTH HAS TAKEN TURN FOR THE BETTER

Course of Treatment Including Rest and Sleep is Still Followed.

By United Press

Washington, September 30—President Wilson's health had taken a turn for the better when the last official announcement was made at the White House. Dr. Grayson was expected to issue another statement after he sees the President this forenoon.

"The President is slightly better" said his latest communication.

The course of treatment still is rest and sleep with automobile rides for fresh air. Grayson hopes soon to have the President in such condition that he can resume playing golf, which will enable him to sleep more readily.

RAIN AIDS TROOPS IN QUELLING RIOTS

Helmeted Soldiers Patrol the Streets in Omaha Where Order Has Been Restored.

By United Press

Omaha, September 30.—Rain and American doughboys today quieted Omaha's riot fever. Helmeted soldiers patrolled the city with companies guarding the blackened stone and marble court house fired by a mob in forcing officers to give up a negro, accused of assault, who was lynched. Regular soldiers poured into the city from all nearby camps and forts. They were completely equipped from observation balloons to armored trucks and were under the direct supervision of Major-General Leonard Wood, commander of the central department.

Omaha reflected on the riots with a divided mind. Civic leaders demanded of court officials meeting today an immediate investigation with punishment for "those guilty of murder." Society leaders and others frankly approved the lynching as a warning that the city will be made safe for womanhood. Mayor Smith was reported recovering, but among the fifty-seven other wounded, several were expected to die.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT SHOWS STRENGTH IN RAIL TIEUP

Action by Transport Workers Relative to Sympathetic Strike Postponed.

By United Press

London, September 30.—The government today was apparently gradually gaining the upper hand in the nation-wide railway strike, which went into effect four days ago.

The busmen and tram operators, closing a long session early today, postponed their decision with regard to a sympathetic strike. They had planned originally to walk out tonight. Action by the transport workers also has been delayed.

Despite the nation-wide railway blockade, the food ministry has been able thus far to maintain a steady movement of foodstuffs into the beleaguered cities, thus countering labor's first major blow and virtually removing the danger of starvation. London, it was estimated by food officials today, is receiving between 80 and 100 per cent of the normal amount of principal foodstuffs from the outside districts, motor lorries providing the mode of transportation.

NEW RESOLUTION BRINGS STORMY SENATE SESSION

Administration Leader Says Republicans Are Trying to Block Vote on Treaty.

By United Press

Washington, September 30.—The senate today unanimously adopted Senator New's resolution calling upon President Wilson to furnish all the facts regarding the landing of American marines in Dalmatia. Adoption of the rules followed denunciation of republicans by administration leaders, who charged that a filibuster is being conducted to delay the peace treaty. In debate which for bitterness and heat has not been excelled in the senate for a long time, Senators Hitchcock and Swanson angrily declared that the republicans' demands on the landing of American marines had been made the occasion for "condemnation of senators of their own government."

Representative Campbell, Kansas, started an attack in the house against the use of American forces on orders of foreigners.

Big Production at Princess Today.

If "Home," the current attraction at the Princess Theatre, served no other purpose than to disillusion foolish maidens as to the desirability of a rich marriage, its production would be eminently worth while. "Home" does more. It will, without fail, send the audience back to their respective homes with a tender feeling toward the place that means the throwing off of false shams. Mrs. Charlie Chaplin (Mildred Harris), is seen as the star in this Jewel attraction just released from the Universal studios. Also a comedy featuring Harold Lloyd in "Heap Big Chief."

Mrs. Ambrose Crawford returned to her home in Tunnelton Monday afternoon after a few days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Homer Hunsucker. Mrs. Crawford also visited relatives in Indianapolis.

MORE STEEL MILLS ARE IN OPERATION

Police Reports From Pittsburg District Indicate Additions to Operators' Ranks.

FOSTER SCOFFS AT REPORTS

Secretary of Strikers' Committee Says He Thinks Conditions Are Very Encouraging.

By United Press

The effort to extend the steel workers' strike to the Bethlehem Steel Company's plant begun Monday morning, apparently was still far from success today. Reports from Steelton and Lebanon, Pa., indicated the strikers were losing ground in those districts, while the situation was practically unchanged in other Bethlehem centers. In the Pittsburg district the strikers and operators remained in deadlock in the former's effort to unionize the United States Steel Corporation. Several mills which closed early in the strike have reopened but are working under handicap of labor shortage.

Officials of the International Longshoremen's Union in Cleveland predicted that movement of ore to land from that city would be halted tomorrow through a strike of dock workers. Minor disorders were reported to be increasing in the Chicago district.

Senator Kenyon announced in Washington today that members of the senate labor committee will go to Pittsburg Friday to personally inspect the situation if the vote on the treaty can be postponed.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 30.—The Pittsburg fortresses of the steel industry were standing firm today against the onslaughts of union leaders. Early police reports from this district indicated continued additions to the operators' ranks.

Many mills, closed since the strike began, resumed operation and other mills, admitted working under a handicap for the past few days, today reported working near capacity.

The Pennsylvania plant of the National Tube company, the Braddock and Donora works of the American Steel and Wire company, McKeesport Tin Plate company and the Pittsburg Steel foundry were among the larger plants again operating.

Secretary Foster of the national committee, scoffed at reports of deserters from his ranks and at the optimism of the employees. He estimated the new additions to strikers totalled thirty to thirty-five thousand within the past 48 hours. Most of these, he said, were from Bethlehem and Jones and Laughlin plants.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—The increasing number of minor outbreaks in the Chicago steel district today indicated that the temper of the striking workers was slowly rising.

Three score minor acts of violence were reported to Gary authorities during the night. In South Chicago and Indiana Harbor, clashes frequently occurred.

Steel company officials reported plants operating a steadily increasing capacity.

The American Sheet and Tin Plate company at Gary will close next week "for repairs" it was announced today. It was reported that if the strikers do not return to work, it will remain closed six months. The company employs 4,000 of Gary's highest paid steel workers.

THE TAX LAW.

The state tax board has announced that within a few days the levies for all the governmental units in the state which have applied for increases in tax rates will be determined. When these petitions are out of the way the local tax rates can be computed and the taxpayers will have opportunity to compute the amount of their taxes payable under the new tax law in 1920. Members of the state tax board predict that much of the new tax law will disappear when the public sees how it will operate. It has been the aim of the board to effect a more just equalization of the tax burden than was possible under the former law. In bringing this about taxpayers who own property which was concealed under the old law and was placed on the tax duplicates under the present law will pay a larger share of the taxes. The real value of the new act, however, will not be known until the rates are finally determined.

While there is objection to a central commission passing upon proposed increases in local tax levies, there is a commendable feature to this provision. In the past it has been possible for city councils or advisory boards to arbitrarily increase tax levies and raise money of which the public was not apprised until the time came for its collection. The new law makes this impossible. Any governmental body that wishes more revenue is required by law to give public notice of the amount desired and the purpose for which it is to be used. The board sets a date for hearing and if the proposed expenditure is not favored by the majority of the taxpayers they have opportunity to present their objections. In case of doubt the issue is decided by referendum. This provision of the law places the taxing authority in the hands of the taxpayers.

STEEL STRIKE PROGRESS.

While the reports made by the steel industry and the strike leaders as to the progress that is made in the industrial tieup are conflicting and confusion, it appears that the strikers are not making the headway that would indicate ultimate success for them. Attempts to close the Bethlehem plants have failed, although the forces have been crippled to some extent. However, with the steel strike more than a week old it would appear that the Bethlehem workers would appear more enthusiastic if they thought their working conditions would be improved by joining the other steel workers who are already out. Reports which are believed to be impartial state that strikers are returning to work in increasing numbers and that portions of some of the big mills which were idle last week are in operation.

If the steel strike fails it will be because the workers did not have real reasons for leaving their work. One of the strike leaders who was probably more influential in bringing about the walkout than any other single individual, recently admitted that he did not know what wages the men were making. He admitted that he is only an organizer. "As soon as I get through with this job," he said, "I'll organize another." His purposes are purely selfish. He cares nothing for the men. The wonder is that the men who have followed him cannot see that he has no interest in them, except to use them for his own selfish ends.

The public today has no sympathy with strike methods. Some of the level headed leaders of organized labor realize that conditions have changed, and are endeavoring to convince their colleagues that the old methods will not be countenanced in this day. As the public will not permit corporations to adopt the same tactics practiced ten years ago, so it will condemn labor for attempts to tie up industry, curtail production and interfere with social and economic reconstruction when its plan of action is fundamentally wrong.

BRITISH RAIL STRIKE CAUSES AMERICAN LOSS

Shipping Will Be Stopped if Transport Workers Join in Sympathetic Walkout.

By United Press
Washington, September 30.—American business men today are facing losses that may total $10,000,000 daily from the strike of British railway men and the threat of transport workers to tieup all operations in the ports of the United Kingdom. This is the value of merchandise now being manufactured and being shipped daily from United States ports. Part of these shipments already have been cut off by the order of the United States shipping board. Complete stoppage of all but a small portion of American exports is expected to come before the end of this week if the British transport workers strike in sympathy with the British railroad men.

CONTRACT FOR POST LIGHTS IS SIGNED

time ago with the understanding that they would be shipped just as soon as the bonds were approved. Telegrams ordering the immediate shipment of the posts and conduits were sent today and it is believed that they will arrive in the course of a few days. Considerable preliminary work may be completed in advance of the arrival of the posts.

Attention has been called to the ordinance which required the removal of telephone and telegraph poles and all other obstructions within the described section. Signs that are not electrically lighted must come down, under the provisions of the ordinance. The merchants are asked by the committee to meet the conditions of the ordinance as soon as possible.

Claude Carter, chairman of the light committee, stated today that representatives of the traction company are expected here this week to make arrangements for the removal of the trolley poles. It is planned to anchor most of the trolley wires from the buildings. However, some poles must necessarily remain, it is stated, and these will be repainted or iron poles installed wherever possible.

There is no question but that the installation of the lighting system will materially add to the appearance of the business district, which has been the most poorly lighted section in the city. When the present light system was installed adequate arrangements were made for installing lights in most of the residential sections, but are, lamps were installed in the business district and these have long since failed to meet the requirements. Some of the citizens who are interested in the new lighting system have proposed a dedication or exhibition ceremony when the lights are switched on for the first time.

The estate of the late William A. Mooney, who for many years was a successful leather manufacturer at Columbus, has been assessed at $935,000. The inheritance tax against the estate will be in the neighborhood of $14,000.

DAN CUPID OUTWITTED BY NORTH VERNON PARENTS

Margaret Trapp, 17 and Henry Hulse, a Young Farmer, Elope To Greensburg.

Greensburg, Ind., Sept. 30—Local police yesterday frustrated the plans of Margaret Trapp 17 years old, daughter of E. P. Trapp, cashier of the First National Bank of North Vernon, Ind., and Henry Hulse, a young farmer of near Vernon, who came here and expected to obtain a marriage license.

The two were taken into custody and held until the arrival of the girl's parents, who rushed here in an automobile.

Charles Bennett, also of Jennings County, and Miss Gladys Hulse, sister of the prospective bridegroom, who accompanied the couple here, made their escape shortly after the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Trapp. Bennett climbed out of a window in the basement of the Court House.

After considerable discussion, an agreement was reached and the girl was taken to her home. Hulse went to Newcastle, where he is said to be employed in a factory.

The parents of the girl said that their daughter was too young to marry and wired the local police to prevent the issuance of a license. Chief of Police Meek was waiting for the couple in the clerk's office when they arrived.

SWEEPING CHANGES MADE IN OIL INSPECTION SYSTEM

Work Taken Over by Food and Drug Commissioner Under Law Enacted This Year.

By United Press

Indianapolis, Sept. 30—Indiana's oil inspection system underwent a sweeping revision today.

The department of inspection passed out of existence and its duties were transferred to the food and drug department, under a law passed by the 1919 general assembly. With the passing of the old regime, sixty inspectors scattered in districts throughout the state lost their jobs and fifteen men will handle their duties. Dr. Harry E. Barnard, food and drug commissioner, held an examination recently to select inspectors on their qualifications. The inspectors will give their entire time to the work and will draw salaries of $125 a month and travelling expenses.

The fees paid by the oil companies, which were the compensation for the district inspectors, will now be paid into the state treasury and this money will be used to pay the new force and its expenses.

Virtuous Wives

Owen Johnson's Cosmopolitan Magazine Novel of Married Life in New York Society.

Directed by George Loane Tucker

This is the first of a Series of eight Anita Stewart pictures to be shown here each of which have a weeks run in Circle Theatre Indianapolis. If they are good enough for Circle Patrons they're good enough for us.

The Five Star Super-Photoplay

ANITA STEWART as the Wife Who Played.

MRS. DE WOLF HOPPER as the Modern Wife.

CONWAY TEARLE as the Husband Who Worked.

EDWIN ARDEN as the Old-fashioned Husband.

WILLIAM BOYD as the Society Crocodile.

The Husband:—"You thought me a thousand miles away." The wife hung her head in shame—

The romance of beautiful Amy Forrester, daughter of wealth—swept from society's glitter by strong Andrew Forrester—then left to play while he, in distant Colorado, struggled for wealth to place her in the glowing setting he felt her beauty deserved.

"But no! Andrew," she pleads tearfully—"take me with you." "I couldn't work so hard nor so fast with you beside me," he replied. "I want you to play for both of us while I'm away. I want men to admire you; I shall glory in your triumphs."

As the months passed, Andrew slaved and Amy played with other men as he had willed—holding herself a virtuous wife, according to society's code.

Then came a sinister warning to absent Andrew, the anonymous venom of another woman planted a barb in his trusting heart that brought him back to Amy—and then—then Andrew's soul accused hers:

"You are no longer a Virtuous Wife—You—You."

Taken from Owen Johnson's Powerful Novel. (Originally published in Cosmopolitan Magazine).

PURE DRUGS

The Physician who prescribed for you understands perfectly well that he cannot be too careful. The more thoroughly he understands the art of healing the more he appreciates the necessity of caution. It is almost superfluous to say that the Drug-gist to whom you take the prescription should exercise at least a corresponding degree of care. If he fails to do this, medical attendance may be rendered valueless. You can have as much confidence in the prescriptions we fill for you as you could if you were competent to fill them yourself and did it. We are trying to stand for all that is good and pure in the Drug Business and we want you to remember this in making your Drug Store purchases. Do you happen to want anything in our line. GIVES DETAILS OF EXPERIENCE

Miss Cook Gladly Outlines Remarkable Relief Gained In Trutona.

Elwood, Ind., Sept. 29—Elwood people have been quick to recognize Trutona's unusual merits and already many are publicly praising the perfect tonic. Miss Lillian Cook, 2541 North B. Street, Elwood, says of Trutona:

"I was still suffering from the after effects of an attack of influenza which I had last December and in addition to this, I had stomach and liver troubles. My food would not digest properly, causing me to experience sick headaches and vomiting spells. Occasionally, after I'd taken a long walk, I'd have pains in my side. In short, I was generally run down and felt very weak.

"Trutona has built up my system considerably and has relieved me of a great deal of unpleasantness. I can eat most anything I care for now and the food tastes better to me than it has for quite a while. The sick headaches and vomiting spells have been greatly relieved. I feel much better and stronger than I formerly did. The long walks which formerly caused pains in my side, do not affect me now.

Trutona is an excellent tonic. It quickly rebuilds and strengthens the system following influenza, pneumonia, hard colds and kindred ailments. Thousands of persons are using Trutona with the most beneficial results for building up the system to withstand attacks of these distressing maladies.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Seymour at W. L. Federmann's Drug Store.

Asserts New Discovery Brings Blessed Relief To Rose and Hay Fever Sufferers

Can Make It Yourself At Home At Trifling Expense

In spite of all the doubters and scoffers, a man in Kentucky, who changed his annoying and distressing hay fever into less than a mild cold, claims most emphatically that if taken in time hay fever can be conquered or at least made so harmless that it is not even bothersome.

He gave his discovery to scores of other sufferers with the most remarkable results and has recently been prevailed upon to dispense it through pharmacists to all hay fever sufferers who still have faith that nature has provided an effective remedy for this common yet miserable disease.

And best of all this remedy costs almost nothing. Get a one ounce bottle of Mentholized Arcline at any drug store, pour the contents into a pint bottle and fill the pint bottle with water that has been boiled.

Then gargle as directed and twice daily sniff or spray each nostril thoroughly.

That's all there is to it; so simple that a lot of people will say that it can't do the work; but oftentimes simple natural remedies are the best as you will find after using.

If you will make up a pint and use it for a week or ten days you need not be surprised if your unwelcome yearly visitor fails to appear.

SOCIAL EVENTS

HOTCHKISS—WIESMAN.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Sunday at high noon at the bride's home in Crothersville, when Miss Ivo Ora Hotchkiss and Clarence A. Wiesman, were united in marriage, the Rev. Otis Watson, of English officiating. The impressive ring ceremony was used.

Only the immediate members of both families were in attendance. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and roses. During the ceremony the bride's sister, Miss Ethel Mae Hotchkiss, played softly Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus. Following the ceremony a four course dinner was served.

For several years he has been prominent in farmers' institute work. He received his discharge from service with the U. S. Navy a few months ago, having been stationed on the U. S. S. Orizaba.

The Man of The Hour....

You know him,—at least you have heard about him and you will hear more of him.

He's the sort of fellow who as a young man laid out his scheme of life and followed it through.

During the war he put his money into Liberty bonds instead of squandering it with so-called "good fellows."

He saved his money and is a national asset not a public liability. He is a saver of money, of vitality, of self respect.

He has faith in himself and in his country. He banks on the future. So he knows he must bank in the present.

He saves what he can each week. He saves regularly and watches it grow. He cannot help succeeding because he has the habit of saving systematically.

His savings placed in our savings department bring him 3 per cent. interest. His regular checking account has careful attention at our bank. His valuable papers are absolutely safe in our fireproof, burglar-proof vault.

CHAPTER VIII.
Backs to the Wall.
"One, two, three, four"—Wallen counted the strokes.
Four bells! Six o'clock. Astern, in a wonderful glow of rose and pink tinted clouds the sun was sinking; ahead, low on the horizon, but opening rapidly, like a pencilled line on the smooth plane of the sea, showed the land—the coast line of Arru! And away off to port, like tiny dots, he could make out a group of islands.
All the night before, all that day, figuring as accurately as he could by dead reckoning and the help Captain Laynton had unwittingly given him, he had calculated they would not do any more than just about sight Arru by four bells. He had staked everything on—four bells. So far he had been right! Was it a good augury—for what was to come!

Creeping past the corner of the wireless house on the starboard side, he caught the flutter of Gunga's loose white garments for an instant—and then he turned and looked aft. Always careful to avoid his proximity, Helen MacKay was pacing up and down the deck.

Would she never go below! He had waited until the last minute, risked more than he cared to contemplate that it might be supper time. Ordinarily she went below ten or fifteen minutes before meals, and he had counted on that too—that she would be below.

And now by some ironical perversity she appeared to be waiting for the supper bell to ring.

A jangled, drunken chorus of song rose from the forecabin; the discord disconcertingly assertive as a voice, a little more inebriated than the rest, attempted a maudlin tenor part.

Wallen glanced quickly at the girl. There was a look in her face that he had detected once or twice before in the three days that were gone when she had thought she was unobserved—a gray look, that brought a pitiful weariness to the eyes. Wallen's lips moved silently, grimly.

He smiled bitterly. Perhaps of her own accord, in another minute now, the next time she reached the lounging room entrance, she would go below—if he asked her to, she would probably only remain where she was!

Where was Gunga now?

Laynton's cunning had been Machiavellian in allowing Gunga and himself a pseudo freedom after disarming them! They had had an opportunity to see—and there was no doubt about the moral status of the crew.

The Monteigh was a floating hell!

The days and nights had been periods of blasphemy, rioting and drunkenness, until the soul was sick with it, until he knew that, failing to lead them to what did not exist, he would receive as short a shrift as would be accorded to a mad dog—until it must have rung terror and awful dread to her, the woman whose love he had thought he had awakened in response to his own, only to stand in her eyes as a blood-stained murderer, a scheming impostor, to be held as a fouler thing than the brutes around her, as the greater of the two evils!

But some things he could not understand. She knew—she must know—the peril in which she stood. No human being could be oblivious of that. And yet, for the first day at least following that scene in the wireless room, she had cultivated Mott more than ever.

There seemed only one explanation—a desperate hope that she might, in her extremity, have someone to depend upon, and was blind to the fearful irony of the fact that the man she chose was the one she had most need to fear.

She knew that they were no longer bound for Sumatra. She knew that Captain Laynton had lied when he told her to answer that message and state that he was returning at once to Singapore. She knew what Laynton was after, for, on discovering a few hours after that message was sent that there was no Singapore in sight, as there should have been if Laynton had put about, she had listened, if without comment, to Gunga's story.

As for the rest, the days had been each one like some grim specter hovering over him, gibbering at him—pointing at her. A sort of horrible facetious pleasantry had reigned in the cabin. Captain Laynton was "coaxing" still. Each day he had offered Wallen suggestively the third officer's berth again.

On his plate at each meal he found the ship's position marked down on a little card.

The days, as Laynton had intended they should, had done away with all supposition or doubt on that score. And now they were off Arru and that "moment" was upon him, and—would she never go below?

From forward, under the bridge, Gunga peered cautiously around the corner of the captain's cabin, drew back as Helen MacKay turned in her restricted walk to face in that direction, and then as she wheeled again, pacing toward the stern, he darted under the bridge ladder that was opposite and within a yard of the captain's door. The next instant he had slipped like a shadow into Laynton's cabin.

Wallen's hand upon the rail gripped tightly as his face set white and hard as chiseled marble. What would the next few minutes bring? Death—for himself and Gunga? Well, they were men; he dared to hope they were men enough to face it like men. But for her it was not death; it was worse than death.

PRINCESS THEATRE WILL SHOW "VIRTUOUS WIVES" FROM STORY BY OWEN JOHNSON
TOMORROW AND THURSDAY
First of Anita Stewart Super Pictures a Famous Tale of New York Married Life.

The Princess Theatre has contracted to show, beginning next Wednesday, Miss Anita Stewart's initial First National production, "Virtuous Wives," adapted from the two million edition book of the same title by Owen Johnson.

"Virtuous Wives" is described as a truthful story of married life in New York society. According to the author, in the introduction to his story, a virtuous wife is becoming an extinct specie of femininity under present-day conditions. The reasons for this, as described in his novel, have been included in the screen adaptation. Miss Stewart makes her return to the American screen after an absence of several months in the role of Amy Forrester, the "only member of a social set to whom pleasure is young." As the wife of Andrew Forrester, and obsessed only with the idea of constant and uninterrupted amusement, she appears in the role of the young society matron who finally is brought to a realization that unbridled pleasure is but the ash of happiness.

Has All-Star Support
Supporting Miss Stewart in "Virtuous Wives" are four stars of the present New York theatrical season. Conway Tearle plays the part of Andrew Forrester, money-maker; Edwin Arden is seen in the role of Rudolph Delabarre; Mrs. DeWolf Hopper plays the part of his wife, Irma Delabarre, and William Boyd appears as Monte Bracken, social waster.

Laynton's words addressed to Mott that he had overheard the night before had rung ever since like doom in his ears: "You keep your paws off the girl until we've got what we want out of that masquerading swine or I'll bash your face into jelly. He's sweet on her, and he's the kind of fool along those lines it ain't wise to stir up until we have to. You mind what I say, Mott! Afterward—" Wallen hadn't heard any more; but it was almost that "afterward" now unless—his eyes were straining forward, and suddenly it seemed as though his heart-beat stopped.

Captain Laynton, starting abruptly to leave the bridge, stepped onto the ladder and halted near the top like a man stunned—as Gunga at the same instant emerged from the cabin.

Then, with a bellow of rage and the agility of a cat, Laynton swung himself under the handrail, leaping for the deck.

And Gunga's shout rang out: "Quick, sahib! I have got them! Run, sahib—run!"

A second sometimes spans an eternity; and it seemed to Wallen that he lived it then as he sprang across the deck. Mott, from the bridge, was hurling himself down the ladder.

Gunga was racing aft like a deer, with Laynton, screaming blasphemy, in pursuit. And Helen MacKay was standing as if turned to stone by the lounging room entrance as Wallen reached her.

"Run below!" he gasped out. "Quick! Into the saloon!"

She did not move. There was no time to speak again, to argue, to ask, to plead. He snatched her up into his arms and plunged through the doorway.

The sharp, vicious bark of a revolver shot echoed behind him; and Gunga called again: "Go on, sahib! Go on!"

Quit Laxatives, Purges; Try NR
NR Tonight—Tomorrow Feel Right

It is a mistake to continually dose yourself with so-called laxative pills, calomel, oil, purges and cathartics and force bowel action. It weakens the bowels and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that daily purging will be unnecessary? You can do so if you get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or so. NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs—promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out. This accomplished you will not have to take medicine every day. An occasional NR tablet will keep your body in condition and you can always feel your best.

Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this. It is the best bowel medicine that you can use and costs only 25c per box, containing enough to last twenty-five days. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

SCHOOL-TEACHER NEEDED BRAINS

"I never have had such a 'God-send' come to me as when I took the first dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I was afraid I would have to give up my school because of severe stomach, liver and bowel trouble which caused such a pressure of gas that I could not use my brain at times, and my heart would palpitate awfully. Since taking a treatment of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy a year ago, all this has disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At Druggists Everywhere.
